

Employment
4 Inclusion

PREVENTING SYSTEMS ON SEGREGATION AND DISCRIMINATION OF MNAR

Title: CONFLICT TRANSFORMATION IN MULTI CULTURAL-ETHNIC-RELIGIOUS SOCIETIES

Type of resource: Study

Country: Italy

Language: English

Short Description

This study aims to teach how to transform conflict in a multi-ethnic society through the reciprocal maieutical approach, which calls for a non-violent and active involvement of the people concerned, through a “process of collective exploration” of experiences and opinions that lead to the development of a common resolution to said conflict. Workshops were realized in Europe and the Middle East, where the respective conflicts of each community were dealt with through cooperation, active participation, non-violent communication and the promotion of positive change in the lives of the people involved.

Webpage: <https://cesie.org/studi/conflict-transformation-multi-cultural-ethnic-religious-societies/>

Title: GUIDELINES ON THE RECEPTION OF THE ASYLUM SEEKER FOR NATIONAL RED CROSS AND CRESCENT SOCIETIES

Type of resource: Handbook of guidelines

Country: Switzerland

Language: English

Short Description

This handbook is the result of six National Societies, the International Federation and the Red Cross/European Union meeting in Copenhagen in 1997 to discuss the importance of strong cooperation between the members of the network of the European Red Cross Societies, sharing their experiences concerning refugees, asylum seekers and migrants this resulted in the creation of the Platform for European Red Cross Cooperation on Refugees, Asylum Seekers and Migrants (PERCO), a trans-national platform involving National Red Cross Societies that aim to improve the work of Red Cross and Red Crescent in assisting displaced and moving people. The guidelines provided by the aforementioned platform is meant to be respected by all European countries within their socio-economic limits. Great stress was placed on the importance of informing and educating the citizens on the migrants’ rights, encouraging them to work in order to have them respected, thus preventing xenophobia and racism.

PDF file: <http://www.justice.ie/en/JELR/Irish%20Red%20Cross.pdf/Files/Irish%20Red%20Cross.pdf>

Title: I USED TO BE SOMEONE – Refugees and Asylum seekers in Wales

Type of resource: Inquiry

Country: Wales, UK

Language: English

Short Description

This report in Wales was compiled by the Equality, Local Government and Communities Committee established on June 2016 to inspect legislation regarding refugees and asylum seekers and the adequacy/inadequacy of the Welsh Government’s approach in their support – especially regarding how well Wales was responding to the large-scale displacement of Syrians and unaccompanied foreign minors - holding the Welsh Government to account through a series of recommendations, with the final goal to make of Wales a “Nation of Sanctuary” through a series of projects and support group calling to action the population of the whole national territory.

PDF file: <https://www.assembly.wales/laid%20documents/cr-ld11012/cr-ld11012-e.pdf>