SUCCESSFUL TRANSITIONS FROM VET TO A JOB

Title: OLSO HELSFYR-MODEL

Type of resource: Program

Country: Norway

Language: English

Short Description

Oslo Voksenoppl ring (adult education) Helsfyr has great success by educating newcomers to pedagogues, chefs, and healthcare workers. The model combines vocational training with trade specific language courses as well as apprenticeship from the first year of education. The education lasts for 4 years, and the level of internship compared to education will gradually increase. The effort is carried out in collaboration with NAV (The Norwegian Labor and Welfare Administration) and relevant trade organisations.

Title: EXTENDED BASIC COURSE AT SOSU

Type of resource: Program

Country: Denmark

Language: English

Short Description

In Denmark, we have a shortage of educated personal within most VET-areas, therefor jobs are almost guaranteed. However, Danish VET-educations has relatively high entry requirements. In a Danish context, therefor the challenge to ensure transition to job is therefore more focused on training for admission and ensuring the completion of the education.

The Danish healthcare educations, SOSU, have had success with an extended basic course offering targeted Danish, cultural courses as well as social and healthcare training. The course used to be 60-weeks, but it has now been shortened due to political decisions. The course is now focused on training for the entry requirements, and it means that the students must obtain a certain level of Danish and maths.
